DEATH HERE BELIEVED TO BE HIT-RUN KILLING

District News

An arm of correspondents in all principal towns and villages of central and northern Alberta keep Edmonton readers informed about district happenings. The Bulletin carries district news, bridge daily.

CROOKED CANVASSEER CLAIMS COPS CRAFTY

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 25—(AP)—A man edged up to Harold Rickman and Mike Kolch and asked: "Wanna buy a shirt?"

Rickman asked: "Is it hot?"

The man grinned. "What do you think?"

Police plainclothesman Rickman and deputy sheriff Kolch locked up Edward J. Ettie, who received a 30-day jail sentence on a larceny charge.

Ettie complained: "I thought he was reaching for a $10 bill and he comes up with a badge. It is not fair. There should be a law requiring all cops to wear badges on the outside where a person can see them."

Verdict Returned In Case of City Pilot

A coroner's jury Friday pointed to an unknown hit-and-run driver as the probable killer of the late Merton Wales 39, of 12427-110 avenue, found lying unconscious on a west end street last Nov. 9.

Wales never fully regained consciousness and died in Royal Alexandra Hospital Nov. 16 without ever giving the authorities an explanation for the accident in which he was struck down.

But a surprise witness at the inquest Friday said that Wales had told her in a brief moment of consciousness that he had just got out of a car, then was hit by a second vehicle.

The witness was Mrs. Robert Smead of Calgary and her husband was the friend from whose car Wales reportedly alighted.

Mrs. Smead said she talked to Wales while she was attending him as a special nurse from Nov. 10 to Nov. 16, when he died.

Mr. Smead, Calgary, also gave evidence after being told by Coroner Dr. M. M. Cantor that he was not compelled to do so and would have the protection of the Canada Evidence Act if he did mount the witness stand.

Smead readily admitted that he had been with Wales the night of the accident and had driven to the spot where the city pilot was hit.

KNOWN SINCE 1940

Mrs. Smead said that he had known Wales since 1940 and had renewed his acquaintanceship with him when he arrived in the city recently as a pilot to do a flying job here.

Smead said he had four or five drinks of whiskey with a female companion earlier in the afternoon than met Wales and another friend at his (Smead's) home. There the three drank a "mishmash" of liquor and part of a 26 oz. bottle of liquor, Smead testified.

The witness said he then drove Wales away in Smead's coupe. He said that he had the strong recollection of what happened after that until the police arrived at the scene of the accident.

The pair stopped there and both got out of the car, said Smead. He told a silent, intemperate man that his name was "a blank" at that time.

"SOMETHING HAPPENED"

Pats Board Korea-Bound U.S. Vessel

By STEWART MCNEILL

A WEST COAST U.S. (CP), Nov. 25—(BUP)—Canada's first major overseas troop movement in peacetime swung into high gear as the United States Navy's Pacific's Canadian Light Infantry climbed aboard a Korea-bound transport.

The second battalion of the Pats, one of Canada's best-known and most-fearless fighting units, was expected to sail sometime this week-end or early next week aboard an American vessel.

Their destination was a South Korean port through which most of the United Nations war material was channeled to the allies in their major drive north against the Koreans and later the Chinese communists. They will be in Korea Christmas.

The 3rd Pats, a unit of Canada's special 11,000-man volunteer brigade, were also expected to leave this port after the Pats were started.

But they were the first assigned to a fighting role. Most of the others, a 365-man advance party that went to prepare their reception, were expected to return home soon.

Canadian and American officers said the troops, which got up steam this morning, might stay in harbor several days before piling out across the Pacific.

Society Scratch Sheet Lists 1951 'Ins', 'Outs'

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—(AP)—Society's 1951 scratch sheet—the New York social register—came out yesterday with the names of people it considers important.

The "outs" include Mrs. Henry Ford IV's brother, George McDonald. He married a contractor's daughter.

Gridiron Finalists Play Through Mud

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—(CP)—A treacherous, muddy field with an east wind hitting a 40-mile gale in gusts came today for the final between Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Toronto Argonauts.

A strong current of warm air from the south area during the night, sending the temperature soaring upwards from its 16-degree night low.

Snowfall on the field during the night amounted to 12 inches—about 12 inches of precipitation. This morning it turned to rain.

TRACHEOUS FOOTING

Two inexperienced teams—Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Toronto Argonauts—stated among the best ever from the east and the west, met on a gridiron at Varsity Stadium that was treacherously uncertain underfoot.

A battery of snow-clearing help spent most of the night and all of the morning attempting to get the grid in shape for the big game, a classic clash among some 75,000 in all parts of Canada that wanted tickets.

What will the uncertain field conditions do to the efforts of two of the fastest backfields in Canadian football?

One thing is certain. The brilliant passing of Toronto's Al Dekkers and Winnipeg's Indian Jack Scelapron will be hampered by the ability to toss the slippery ball accurately with rain-chilled hands may have a lot to do with the outcome.

KICKING IMPROVEMENT

Certainly kicking still an important factor in Canadian football, will become considerably more important as a result of the unsure footing. Here it will be Joe Krol, a star of several past Argo Grey Cup victories, who will compete with Jack Scelapron.

The Bombers have good reason to remember the game-winning point Krol kicked against them in east-west game of 1947. Will Krol be that important today?

Pure Mineral Found In Quebec

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 25.—(CP)—A North Bay business man today said that Scheelite, a Tungsten mineral, has been discovered in almost pure state in bushland in northwestern Quebec.

George Spencer, a local hydro commissioner, said the find was made by his partner, veteran prospector Arthur Jettus, about 30 miles east of New Liskeard, 90 miles north of here. New Liskeard is about five miles west of the Ontario-Quebec border.

Oil Fields of Province Said Port of Missing Men

Reports had planned the age about 25.

His hair was brown, the report stated, and there was evidence of an old fracture to the right collarbone.

The victim's clothes were brown overalls, blue herringbone serge pants, fawn sport shirt, "Woolmark" made; gabardine windbreaker, "Slacks" underwear, 40-ton and wool green coat.

Report coincided with announcement the coroner's inquest would start at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Leduc and continue for three days.

Between 30 and 40 witnesses may be heard, the coroner said.

Two Die as Biggest Bomber Crashes

WRECKAGE of B-36, largest of world's land-based bombers, which crashed-landed 25 miles south of Fort Worth, Texas, killing two men, is caught by aerial camera. Seven were injured when big plane was forced down.

Hope Dim as Five Bodies Still Sought Amid Wreckage

Bodies of five of the 20 persons killed in Tuesday's Canoe River rail disaster were still being sought by railway workers today amid the wreckage of the troop-passenger train collision.

Little chance remained that the bodies would be recovered, Alberta's chief coroner Dr. Max Cantor revealed last night.

Dr. Cantor said an explosion and fire which swept through the wreckage on the night of the crash came after only 15 bodies had been recovered.

Bodies of 12 soldiers and three railwaymen were removed from the wreckage. Before the fire the soldiers were spotted under the debris. Two were identified. Missing and never seen after the wreck were a soldier and a locomotive engineer.

The report made no mention of the body of an unidentified soldier reported to have been found on the wreck scene yesterday. Army authorities said they were sending an army dentist to try and identify the body by the dental work.

16 RECOVERED

The army's tally made the death count 16 recovered bodies. That would mean four, not five, still not found.

It was previously believed that 16 bodies were taken from the wreck, that only two missing remained to be sought.

First of several hearings into the tragic train crash was due to open today in Kamloops, B.C., where the Canadian National Railway is conducting an inquiry after suspending all persons involved in issuing orders to the death train.

Board of Transport Commissioners has scheduled a public inquiry for Dec. 11 in Edmonton into the circumstances surrounding the crash.

BURIED IN CITY

A funeral for Gen. James M. Wenker, Cornwallville, Que., only soldier victim to be buried in Edmonton, was scheduled for 2 p.m. today.

An inquest was opened last night at Jasper where a coroner's jury viewed the bodies of three railway employees taken from the wreck.

Russians Release British Personnel

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Russians last night released an RAF pilot and a British soldier they had been holding for more than two months. The Russians tried to make a deal with British authorities by which the two would be released in exchange for a Soviet officer refugee in the British Zone.

The foreign office announced in London Nov. 15 it had refused to deal on such a basis. The British ambassador in Moscow continued to press for the outright release of the men.

Snow, Rain Buffet East As Winter Storms Hit

A sudden change in the weather overnight brought rain today to Southern Ontario while the province still reeled from yesterday's storm that left 30 inches of snow in places.

A tailwind headed northward from Virginia was due to sweep the Lake Ontario region by afternoon, forecasters said. That a snowstorm following the rain would sweep across during the night. After that the weather would turn cold, with

Scientist Barred Claims Report

BRAGOV, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 25.—(UP)—The official Czech news agency said last night Prof. Frederic Joliot-Curie, French Communist atomic scientist, was refused permission to cross the American zone of Germany on route home to Paris from Warsaw.

He was taken to the train at the Czech-German border, questioned for hours by German police, and sent back to Prague, the agency said.

Germany Given More Freedom, Claims Report

BOHN, Germany, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Western Allies have handed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer a document routing Germany's right to conduct foreign affairs, it was reported here yesterday.

The document, which implements the decisions of the foreign ministers in New York, also frees the Germans from any Allied controls.

But it will not be publicly announced until the West German government undertakes liability for Germany's pre-war foreign debts and to make war materials available for West European defense.

Reds Try Flank-Swing As UN Forces Advance

TOKYO, Nov. 25.—(AP)—United Nations forces rumbled ahead toward the Communist Manchurian border in the northwest offensive today but their extreme right flank was shoved back by counter-attacking Reds.

Gains on the winding 90-mile front ranged up to six miles, with Chong-fang to the Americans on the flank of the concerted drive. But on the extreme east flank, where Communist forces plunged six miles into South Korean positions.

A U.S. 1st Corps spokesman described the Red attack as the first major reversal of the two-day offensive which Gen. Douglas MacArthur hoped will end the war by Christmas.

The Reds penetrated the South Yalu, upstream from Sinsung, Korea's 8th Division to a point 40 miles largest in the world. South near Yeonju, 22 air miles east of Tokchon, on the far right flank of the northwest front. The spokesman said the Reds presumably were Chinese.

It appeared that the Reds were trying to turn the flank of the offensive, but it remained to be seen if they would be able to capture Friday said a full Chinese division was dug in about 10 miles north of Yeonju.

The South Koreans were heading toward the great Suho dam on the Yalu, upstream from Sinsung.

HUNDREDS SEEK MEN

versity of Alberta pathologist's report.

No date as yet has been set for the five victims' funeral but Dr. Max Cantor, provincial chief coroner said today it would be held soon. Police held out little hope the victim would be identified before burial.

The pathologist's report differed considerably from earlier descriptions of the unknown victim.

It gave his height as five foot, nine inches, his weight as approximately 160 pounds.

The report said the body was that of a white male and approximately 40 years old. Earlier descriptions had planned the age about 25.

His hair was brown, the report stated, and there was evidence of an old fracture to the right collarbone.

TIME TELLS ABOUT 'HOPPY'

The hero of one of the Edmonton Bulletin's top-notch comic strips, William "Hopalong Cassidy" Boyd, as the "crazy man" M time magazine this week.

The internationally-famous news magazine devotes little column of space to tell the life story of Boyd and Hopalong Cassidy—the idols of millions of children.

But it will not be publicly announced until the West German government undertakes liability for Germany's pre-war foreign debts and to make war materials available for West European defense.

Russian Reported 151 Years of Age

ASERAIAN, mounslaineer, Ibrahim Gadaviev, recently celebrated his 151st birthday. A Russian newspaper reported yesterday. The dispatch said Gadaviev "despite his advanced age feels in good health."

His family was said to number about 50 persons.

Two Safe In Plane Crash

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 24.—(BUP)—An RCAF Harvard trainer, carrying two holders of the Distinguished Flying Cross, missed a runway at municipal airport during a heavy fog here this evening and crashed. Both of the occupants were shaken up, but walked away from the wreck.

In the plane were Pilot P. C. Ferris, of Calgary, a member of 603 City of Calgary (Auxiliary) Squadron, and P. L. D. C. Bullock, of Winnipeg, of the permanent RCAF, and commander of the local air force recruiting unit.

The plane sustained considerable damage but was still salvageable, air force officials said.

The crash occurred in a fog brought on by one of Alberta's heaviest snowstorms, with visibility was zero-zero. Shortly after the accident, the fog began to lift.

Anglo-Danish Parley Broken

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Anglo-Danish negotiations on the price Britain pays for Danish beef were broken off yesterday. The Danes rejected a British offer to pay the equivalent of $2.40 more per cwt. for next year's imports. The current price is $97.50 per cwt. The Danes wanted a 7 1/2 per cent increase.

Pebiscites Wanted For County Act

Municipal Men Oppose Any Local Changes Without Vote

CALGARY, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Opposition to the proposed provincial County Act, without a plebiscite first being held among residents who were to be included in the new counties, was expressed by the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts convention here yesterday.

The resolution passed at the close of the three-day convention also declared the municipal councils were "unilaterally opposed to any other sweeping changes in local government without proper provision for a plebiscite of the people concerned."

Introduced in the Alberta Legislature last spring, the County Act calls for revision of municipal government so that a council of 11 members would perform the duties of present municipal councils, school boards and hospital boards.

Discussion lasted about 2½ hours and most objections were based on the centralization of authority in one group of men and the legislative provision that no plebiscite would be held until the act had been in force for four years. It was to be tried out in a few areas in the province next year and the convention felt that it was not universal in the province and that local government was in an uncertain position.

FREE COLLECTION

Another spirited debate was held on the question of municipalities adding fees for membership in the Farmers' Union of Alberta to tax bills. The plan, defeated last year, was that a ratepayer not notify the tax collector by April 1 that he did not wish to join the membership would be added to the tax bill.

THE RESOLUTION WAS DEFEATED

Another resolution passed asked that the provincial government refrain from allowing natural gas export from Alberta, but retain the resource for use.

Jonathan Wheatley, president, was presented with a watch for his seven years' service as president, while his wife was also given a present for arranging entertainment for women guests of the convention. The presentations were made by C. P. Hayes, Strome, president. It was announced that the Smith, Fairview, had been chosen director for district No. 3 in the Peace River area.

Survivors of Wreck Get 311 Blood Units

The equivalent of blood that the Red Cross reserves for all Indian dual donors has been given in transfusions to the victims of Tuesday's disastrous train wreck at Canoe River, B.C.

The injured, numbering 42, many of them seriously hurt, were brought to Edmonton. A special blood donor clinic will be held Monday night to supplement supplies.

Fingertal biters may endanger their health through possible germs being under the nails.

A conservative minister in the B.C. coalition government, Hon. Anson, is substituting for Premier Byron Johnson, injured some weeks ago in an automobile accident in the east.

Man Beaten and Robbed Found Lying On Street

A city man was severely beaten and robbed of $80 by two thugs on a city street last night following a drinking party.

James Champayne, 11546-97 street, reported to police he had been knocked down, kicked in the face and robbed by two men called "Kee" and "Tim."

The assault and robbery occurred at 97 street and 118 avenue. Champayne told police he met the men in a downtown beverage room and while accompanying them home for a drink, they beat him up.

Champayne was brought to police station by city taxi driver Paul Petruk, who found him lying on the street.

One assailant is described as young, thin and black; the other 40 years of age.

Indian bird-bark canoes used in Canada's early fur trade could carry up to 900 pounds plus four passengers.

Driller of First Crude Oil Well In Alberta Is Honored

Pioneer Alberta driller was honored at a unique ceremony today marking the beginning of drilling operations at an oil well on Edmonton's fringe.

Officiating at the brief ceremony attended by several hundred Edmontonians, Lieut.-Gov. Hon. J. J. Bowden paid tribute to George Lloyd Stafford, partner in the desirable crude production a year Devon Drilling company, and driller in charge of the new Bison Model-Acheson No. 1 operations.

The Bison-Model-Acheson No. 1 well is being sunk only three miles to the west of Edmonton city limits. The drilling operation is closer to a city than any other currently being carried on in Canada.

Drilling operations at the Bison-Model-Acheson No. 1 were "taken out of the realm of the purely commercial" by their association with the earliest history of oil drilling in Alberta, Mr. Bowden said.

Still producing First well from which crude oil came from under the limestone of the Turner Valley field was drilled by Mr. Stafford, the Bison-Model-Acheson No. 1.

Another length of pipe to the well, which is still producing oil from Turner Valley field.

Mr. Stafford's father was associated with even earlier oil development in Alberta, having drilled the first oil well in Alberta in 1905.

The original well was located at the present resort town of Waterton Lakes, and because of the limited demand for petroleum products, the first oil from the well was used as a crude form of sheep dip.

Following his address, the lieutenant-governor started rotary equipment cutting the well.

Spectators watched roughnecks pull the first pipe-length and stowing Assistance Act.

Property Qualifications

With great good sense, the bylaws committee of the city council has decided to go along with the province's provision in the proposed new Uniform City Act that property qualifications should not be required of mayoralty and aldermanic candidates.

To be consistent, the city council should recommend to the provincial government that property qualifications should not be required of those citizens who vote on money bills.

If the mayor and aldermen, administering civic assets, are not required to be property owners, it is absurd to demand that those voters who dispose of civic assets should be property owners either.

Indeed, the tendency of development in modern cities is all away from property qualifications.

The property qualifications in voting and holding civic office are relics of two suppositions that are as obsolete as the dodo.

The first supposition is based on the old feudal tradition that no one who did not own property was worth considering in a social way.

The second supposition was that people who did not own their own homes were flouters and therefore unworthy of responsibility.

The first supposition is pure outmoded snobishness.

The second supposition, while it may have been true some 100 years ago, is false today because there are thousands of substantial, permanent and responsible citizens who find it uneconomical to own city property.

Every renter pays taxes indirectly. And a man who rents a house at $75 to $100 per month is making as great a contribution to the city treasury and has just as much of a stake in the city as many home-owners.

As a city attains metropolitan size, this truth becomes even more pertinent because apartment life becomes more and more a necessity for many sound and responsible people.

It might be a good idea to establish a residence clause forbidding all those who have not lived in the city for at least two or three years to vote on financial matters. But to divide citizens into electors and burgesses is archaic snobbery on the one hand and pure injustice on the other.

The property qualification is to be deleted in the case of office holders. The constituency demands that it be deleted in the case of voters.

Keeping Faith With a Church

The city council performed an act of commendable justice when it refused the option of the First Baptist Church to purchase two lots on 109 street from the city for $8,200 as the site of a new church building.

The aldermen did well to ignore the protests of the commissioners that the city has been offered $20,000 for these lots.

The price difference has absolutely no meaning at all in the light of the fact that churches are any city's greatest asset.

The aldermen did well to ignore the protest of the town planner that 109 street will eventually be congested to be the best site for a church.

Congested Bloor street in Toronto is the site of many churches, including the large St. Paul's.

Narrow and congested St. Catharines street in Montreal is the site of many fine and imposing churches, including several Roman Catholic edifices and the Anglican cathedral.

Congestion has nothing whatever to do with it.

Wherever there are people, there should be churches.

The First Baptist congregation is entitled to build wherever it feels it is best to build.

And the commissioners are not the best judges of that.

Preparing for Christmas Day

The Church Calendar designates tomorrow as the Sunday before Advent. December 3 is the first Sunday in Advent, December 17 the third Sunday in Advent and December 24 the fourth Sunday in Advent. December 25, of course, is Christmas Day.

The Advent season is the period of preparation necessary for a good and worthwhile celebration of Christmas.

To the Christian, Christmas Day is not merely an occasion for the giving of gifts and the exchange of kindly wishes.

It is the sacred season when the sacred event which witnessed the incarnation of God the Son. "The Word," as St. John says, "became flesh and dwelt among us."

Christmas Day, then, marks the beginning of the process upon earth by which the salvation of man was made possible and by which heaven was opened to believers.

It is obvious that such a solemn occasion cannot be properly approached by the mere erection of a Christmas tree and the purchase of gifts.

Christmas must be approached, first, in a complete unselfishness of its significance and, second, in a reverent and pious and worshipful frame of mind.

We must be worthy in our minds to understand Christ and we must be worthy in our hearts to receive Him.

Thus, the Advent season with all its chapters of the Gospels is essential to a good Christmas in the spiritual sense.

Those who wish to celebrate Christmas worthily will regularly attend, of course, the services of the church.

Those who cannot attend church on Christmas Day or Christmas Eve. In fact, the churches should be crowded to the doors between now and Christmas.

But there are private devotions and private exercises that will help. The regular recitation of private prayers is necessary.

Another excellent plan is to read attentively and prayerfully, in some ordered fashion, the four Gospels during the Advent season.

Nothing could be better than for families, before they separate for the day or for the night, to read together a few chapters of the Gospels and discuss their meaning together, consulting their clergyman about the correct interpretation of them.

Such a practice and such observances will add immeasurably to the meaning, the joy and the blessing of that sacred day.

ODDS AND ENDS

Should Children Run Wild In Public Transit Buses?

Sentimental people are not going to like this piece about children who run wild in buses and other public conveyances.

They are going to be particularly incensed over my effrontery in dealing with the problem in the title of the section.

One of these places is not a pre-Christmas season because, as they are not yet in the quiet white snow, "Christmas" is not yet in the air.

But it is a season of the year when the children are allowed to go out.

They have to be taught to subside a knife, fork and spoon, and to use the toilet in a public place.

They will continue to use fingers, but they will not use them in a public place.

It is these things that are the basis of the public conduct of the children.

I have learned the contents of people of all ages on buses and on foot, and of those, and there is a genuine wave of public indignation about the juvenile delinquency that makes even the briefest bus trip at certain hours of the day, something like an adventure in Hell.

There is no reason why the public should have to put up with this sort of thing in a public conveyance supported by public money.

Places For Pandemonium

I am not blaming the children themselves so very much because pulling and behaviour behaviour are part of the business of growing up.

This mysterious process of growth seems to demand an unbridled exercise of the lungs and a flinging about of the adolescent body.

But there are places provided for pandemonium.

One of these places is not a pre-Christmas season because, as they are not yet in the quiet white snow, "Christmas" is not yet in the air.

Columnist's Entourage

Do Cortes Repeat

Nothing in a full 15,000 miles has given us the same sense of elation as driving toward the Pacific with the knowledge that before the day was done we'd be camped beside "our" ocean.

In the history of the world, there has been a great deal of the thrill for those early explorers, Cortes and Balboa and company, when they topped the last rise, shaded their eyes, and argued the sea for the first time.

I'm prepared to argue that the thrill goes just as deep when you know what lies ahead. Then you have not merely the expectation of something new, but of something mind-boggling. And redemptive is always headier wine than discovery.

We left our desert camp outside Yuma, Arizona, early in the morning and drove first through the incredible Sand Hills, California's own, personal Sahara, where you keep an automobile eye on the horizon, expecting to sight a camel train or a robed priest on a white Arabian.

Then we went across the wide, dry imperial Valley into the little town of El Centro, where we had a curious psychological effect on my wife and me.

A couple of years ago when we travelled down to Mexico we passed through El Centro. The knowledge that we were back on a highway we'd travelled before gave us a feeling of coming home. Any recognized landmark—the chalky tan towers of the Imperial Valley drive through where El Centro is as if we were recalling events of years ago.

With some 1,800 miles to go we were talking as if we'd reached the outskirts of our town.

This sort of illusion is common when you travel fast, far. Time itself gets twisted.

If we remember about adventures last summer in the Alameda foothills or talk about the long drive through where El Centro is as if we were recalling events of years ago.

When we were talking as if we'd reached the outskirts of our town.

Her talk was enjoyed by all.

Rail Hearing Decision Held

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP)—The Federal Board of Transport Commissioners yesterday rendered judgment on two railway proposals which raise livestock freight rates by 25 per cent and after present regulations.

Completing public hearings held in Western Canada, the board named spokesmen for the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture and Cooperation, Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce, United Grain Growers and a group of railway unions.

The railways seek to cancel special livestock rates, increasing them an average 25 per cent. As application by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture asked suspension of the change pending public hearing.

Army Plans Far North Operation

Site and Type of Exercises Still Remain On Secret List

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(CP)—The army today outlined winter training plans for active and reserve forces and disclosed that at least one Far North Exercise is in the books. No details were given—the army said the site and type of the exercises "remains a military secret" but apparently only about 100 active force personnel will be involved and "equipment trials" will be part of the far-north maneuvers.

The active army men will undergo a three-week indoctrination course at Fort Churchill, Man., before going to the Far North later in the winter. The exercise itself will be held in secret.

Some 40 picked active force officers and men and two or three civilian scientists from the defense research board now are at Fort Churchill, before going to the Far North later in the winter. The job of the scientists—first to take the Churchill course—to design and test better Arctic clothing and equipment for the armed forces.

SCHOOLS LATER

The army men, once qualified, will act as instructors at various winter training schools to be conducted later in the winter.

The army's general long-term plan for winter training is being considered and a final slightly changed for last year.

For instance, this year reserve force personnel winter training will consist mostly of week-end outdoor exercises conducted locally.

They will be instructed by hundreds of reservists who last year graduated from active force winter warfare schools. Only a few selected reserve force officers and senior NCO's will attend these schools this year.

While reservists this year will receive regular winter training near home, an undisclosed number of active force men will attend regular winter warfare schools in western, prairie, central and Quebec commands or at their home stations.

They will spend at least two weeks learning the rudiments of winter warfare and fighting outdoors in winter. A two or three-day outdoor exercise on a squadron, company or battery level will culminate the training.

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN EXHIBITIONS

MAY 3-SEPTEMBER 30 The summer of 1951 will be long remembered by Britons all over the world. Just as the "Crystal Palace" Exhibition of 1851 was something entirely new and bold in its generation, so Britain now invites you to a Festival of the like which has never been seen before.

Exhibitions will be the only part of the Festival programme, but a spectacular and important part.

In LONDON the centrepiece of the Festival will be the great South Bank Exhibition on the sweep of the Thames between Westminster Bridge and Waterloo Bridge. Here, amid 30 acres of new buildings and broad terraces, dominated by the great Dome of Discovery (the largest in the world), you will see the story of Britain and her people at work and at play—in industry, transport, the farm, at home and on the sea; in sport, at leisure, and in those boundless fields of exploration and discovery in which British scientists and technicians are helping to build the world of tomorrow.

In a new extension to the Science Museum in South Kensington, the latest advances in scientific discovery—the frontiers of man's present knowledge—will be on display.

In the East end, an Exhibition of Architecture at Poplar will show the community centre of the future in course of construction, using the latest building styles and techniques. There will be an Exhibition of British Books in the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington.

These main London Exhibitions will be open to the public from May 4 to September 30.

IN GLASGOW an Exhibition of Industrial Power at Kelvin Hall will show British achievements in heavy engineering, from the steam engine to the modern turbine and atomic energy. This Exhibition will open on May 28 and last for 13 weeks.

IN BELFAST the Ulster Farm and Factory Exhibition, staged in the interior and grounds of a new model factory, will show the growth of the linen industry and of developments in agriculture and other local industries. This will be open from June 1 to August 31.

IN ABERDEEN there will be an extensive Exhibition of Scottish Architecture and Traditional Crafts, during June and July.

In addition there will be Exhibitions of British Books and Literature in Edinburgh and Glasgow, and Exhibitions of painting and sculpture in various parts of the country.

But Exhibitions are not the whole of the Festival. There will also be a series of dramatic performances, musical and dramatic, ranging from carols to sporting events in hundreds of communities, in the heart of Scotland, in the English, Welsh and Irish.

Anglican Bishop Hits Touchy Spot

Bishop of Birmingham Says 'Fanciful Falsehoods' In Bible

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 25.—(UP)—The Anglican bishop of Birmingham flirited with a new ecclesiastical storm today by saying the bible contained "fanciful falsehoods" on the origin of man and should be rewritten.

The bishop, the Rt. Rev. Ernest W. Barnes, told the clergy of his diocese that proof had been found that civilization began in Europe 10,000 years ago.

"In the face of such notice," the bishop said, "We must tell them the fanciful falsehoods, however poetic, literary or symbolic, to children in our church schools."

"If we wish to win the confidence of our young people," the clergy said, "We must tell them the new-found truths of the origin of man and the human civilization and these proofs must be combined with their religious education."

SAME PRELATE
The bishop is the same protestant prelate who rocked the Anglican world in 1947 with a book entitled "The Rise of Christianity" in which he challenged church belief in miracles—especially the virgin birth of Christ and the physical resurrection of Christ.

At the time the Archbishop of Canterbury, Francis of England, rebuked the bishop for his "heresy" and said:

"If his views were mine, I should not feel that I could still hold... office in the church."

But the bishop ignored the invitation to resign and withstood attacks at the church officials' to unseat him. He has been Bishop of Birmingham since 1924.

Washington Likes Canadian Exhibit

WASHINGTON.—(CP)—More than 50,000 persons have visited an exhibit of Canadian painting—first ever held at the National Gallery of Art.

The exhibition, on view from October 29 to December 10, has received favorable comment from press and public, and warm commendation from David E. Finley, gallery director.

The exhibit comprises 87 paintings, from public and private collections, assembled by the National Art Gallery of Canada.

Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the board of trustees, said the purpose is "to show the main trends in Canadian art during the last 50 years."

Eight paintings from the 18th and 19th Centuries provide the historical background.

TIMELY TIPS for NATURAL GAS USES

One Minute to Read

Five Small Jobs

Five Months Comfort

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD DO to enjoy Better, Cleaner, Cheaper Heating of Your Home This Winter

1. When lighting any gas appliance, make sure the gas is OFF before striking a match. If you find the valve on with the gas not burning—turn OFF the valve and wait 15 minutes. When in doubt open a door or window. Light a match and apply it above the burner. THEN, AND ONLY THEN, TURN ON THE GAS.

2. When lighting a furnace or heater, place a match in a lighter rod and proceed as in Number 1 above. A lighter rod can be made by wiring a clothes pin to a long stick, or can be obtained at a hardware store.

NOTE: When purchasing new heating appliances, BE SURE THEY ARE ADEQUATELY SIZED to take care of your requirements. ALL APPLIANCES MUST BE PROPERLY VENTED.

UNATTENDED PREMISES: Leaving your home unattended for prolonged periods, especially during the winter, can be dangerous. When absent from your premises, for any length of time, we suggest that you provide someone—a friend or relative—with a key in order that they may enter in case of emergency, to see that everything is properly protected.

ADAMS, Mass., Nov. 25.—(AP)—The First National Bank had to borrow money today to do business. When the vault was closed for Thursday's Thanksgiving holiday, the time lock was set 40 hours ahead instead of 40. The locks remained secure all day yesterday until 5 p.m. Neighboring banks came to the rescue with ready cash.

Oakes' Killer Is Checked

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 25.—(UP)—San Francisco police today told the confession of a shoe clerk who claimed he murdered a woman in the Oakes Hotel in the Bahamas last year.

The clerk, George Boyle, 49, made the confession after he had been drinking, police said. Officers quoted Boyle as saying that fishermen friends took him to Florida and the Bahamas in 1953 on a lobster fishing cruise. Police said Boyle told them the friends persuaded him to kill Oakes.

Boyle said he went aboard and another Sir Harry Oakes in his bed, police said. Oakes, a wealthy American-born Canadian gold magnate, was believed to be dead, according to Nassau police reports.

Two months ago Edward Majava, a 30-year-old Oakland mechanic, told police he knew who murdered Sir Harry. Majava's story brought police officers Augustus Roberts here from Nassau but he said he never said an unkind word and service was his watchword.

Sensation In Yugoslavia As Tito Frees Prisoner

BEIGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Premier Tito yesterday caused a sensation by releasing from prison his former close collaborator after the man signed a confession that he treacherously plotted against the Yugoslav government.

The man released is Mladen Zujovic. He once had a strong following among the Yugoslav people, especially the dominant Serbs, and was the man the Serbs once apparently had regarded as strong enough to unseat the rebel Tito.

The confession meant Tito had broken down one of his toughest opponents. Zujovic was finance minister in Tito's cabinet and a member of the Yugoslav Communist party's central committee before the Soviet-led communist broke with Tito in 1948.

OLD-LINE RED

Zudovic was an old-line Communist who had been in the party for 25 years and also was a general in Tito's anti-Nazi Partisan movement. He had been in prison for more than two years.

Disaster Specialists Talk Evacuation of Large City

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.—(CP)—Red Cross disaster specialists yesterday studied the problems of evacuating a large city in an emergency. They heard a string of speakers review the partial evacuation of Winnipeg during the disastrous Red River floods of last spring.

It was part of a symposium conducted by the Disaster Service Institute of the Canadian Red Cross. About 100,000 Winnipeggers were evacuated over a period of several weeks.

A large group of French-Canadian evacuees was directed to a town where there was no Roman Catholic church nor a priest for miles around. The problem was solved by sending a priest from St. Boniface.

Colin Herrie, national director of disaster services for the American Red Cross, interpreted that it was impossible to handle a mass exodus on an individual basis.

MARTIAL LAW From Eric Ralph Morton, head of the Army's Prairie Command, who was flood controller during the spring emergency, came a suggestion that only in a "supreme emergency" should martial law be considered by provincial authorities.

He said voluntary evacuation is the desirable method. "Martial law should be avoided at all costs as long as humanly possible," said Eric Morton. "For it is possible to push about a man's belongings but you can't shove his person around without trouble."

Special legislation would be required to force evacuation. The put a man out of his home.

Membership Drive By Luther League SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Luther League of America today launched a campaign to increase its membership from 50,000 to 50,000 in 1951.

The plan was explained to Luther League presidents from more than a score of states and Canada as they ended a meeting at Willenburgh College here. The league is the youth organization of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Authorities had no legal right to be forced to force evacuation. The put a man out of his home.

$200 Millions Estimated As Frost, Prices Loss

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—(BUP)—Western farmers lost up to $200,000,000 on wheat that have been their third biggest crop in history because of frost damage and changing world markets.

A department of agriculture report prepared for next week's federal-provincial farm production conference showed that frost cut this year's crop from a possible 344,000,000 bushels forecast in August, to 465,000,000 bushels.

The crop's quality was slashed by frost damage. Last year's output of 368,000,000 bushels graded out 85 per cent in milling grades, but this year's will be much less useful for baking and export.

The federal agriculture department made no official estimate, but western grain trade authorities said probably 50 per cent of this year's crop will be below milling grade, most of it could be used only for feed purposes, although some low-grade wheat might find a market on the domestic market as second-rate flour, grain trade sources said.

This year's western wheat crop will be sold overseas under the International Wheat Agreement, which set a top price of $1.80 per bushel for best grade grain. The government's action in setting the Canadian dollar free on world markets meant that western farmers would get only about $1.80 to $1.90 in place of the former IWA price of $2.18 in Canada funds.

The world wheat agreement prices are worked out in United States funds. Because of the frost damage and the lowered dollar value of the crop, western farmers probably will receive $120,000,000 to $140,000,000 for export wheat this year, federal statistics showed.

Last year, when wheat was being sold to Britain under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement at a top price of $2 per bushel, farmers had better wheat to sell, they received about $600,000,000.

Some months ago Mr. Kitcherhagen had to stop to avoid running down two men, and a lamp. The reward captured right up to the car and then rolled over like a kiln. All in the day's work are making poisons and deadly black mambas.

Commonwealth Asian Plan Coming Tuesday LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Commonwealth countries soon will call for American help to another Commonwealth among 250,000,000 Asians by raising living standards.

Official sources reported today that a Commonwealth-sponsored six-year-plan—estimated to cost more than $500,000,000—will be announced in detail Tuesday.

The plan will stress that its own fulfillment hinges on the measure of aid it can get from American-sponsored agencies.

The United States is expected publicly to welcome the Commonwealth undertaking. Simultaneously the U.S. state department may list what the U.S. itself is doing to help feed, clothe and house the people of Asia.

SELF-HELP The program stresses development of backward Asia's primary resources. The idea is to increase agricultural output, improve communications, harness rivers for their power and diversify top-loaded national economies.

The program was launched by Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

Wild Animals Menace Road In Rhodesia

CHIPPINGA, Northern Rhodesia, (CP)—Motorists about his parish in this still half-wild corner of Africa, Rev. A. M. De V. Esterhuysen, Luthers' northern minister for the local African population, has become accustomed to wild animals holding up his car.

Recently he had trouble clearing a big Koodoo cow—a variety of large buck—out of the road. The next day he met a Koodoo bull, which stalked slowly away only after Mr. Esterhuysen had sounded the horn on his car several times.

Some months ago Mr. Esterhuysen had to stop to avoid running down two men, and a lamp. The reward captured right up to the car and then rolled over like a kiln. All in the day's work are making poisons and deadly black mambas.

Bowie Match Race Good Riding Test

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 25.—(AP)—A match race here Monday definitely will be for the leading jockeys in the United States, while Shoemaker and Joe Culmone, and not the horses.

Jim Coleman

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Since today marks the official closing of the racing season, there could be no more fitting occasion for a survey of the season's activities of the past three months.

Grasping the bull by the horns, the writer, before the season's end, where else could one grasp an imperious Herald without causing disaster? Your correspondent, after three fully-considered impressions of the features of the football campaign.

Smartest coach of the year: Fred Grant, of the Regina Roughriders, who, even if he didn't win his championships, was smart enough to submit his resignation and five years before the executive had a chance to fire him.

Second smartest coach of the year: Wally Masters, of the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Knowing that the fanatical footballing in Ottawa could not survive the indignity of losing another Grey Cup Final, Masters wisely guided the Roughriders home to third place in their own league, thus avoiding any heart-breaking play-off possibilities.

Third smartest coach of the year: Vic Mack, of McGill University. Knowing that his team would be widely criticized for their impatience of Western Canada, if they won the intercollegiate championship, Mack wisely permitted McGill to blow the title game to the University of Western Ontario.

"I did it for the good of the school," said Mack, as they led him away to hang himself from the trapeze in St. Arthur Circus Memorial Gymnasium.

Outstanding Indian quarterback in Canadian football: Indian Jack Jacobs, Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Best back: Arthur Williams, Regina Rough Riders.

Best line: The front row of the chorus in Michael Todd's production of "Peep Show."

Forgotten man of the year: Otto Argenta, who coached Toronto Argonauts to three Canadian championships and then sent back to his farm to drill his horses, cattle and pigs in the intricacies of the T-formation and the line-sweeping.

Most exciting race of the year: The run from University of Toronto Stadium to the roof garden bar of the Park Plaza Hotel on the conclusion of a Saturday afternoon game.

Football post-season of the year: The old friend from whom you have heard for 10 years, who turns up about November 23 and can't understand why you can't get him four tickets for the Grey Cup final. (After all, he lent you $10 one night in that place in Port Alberni.)

Best last-place team in Eastern Canada: Ottawa Rough Riders.

Best last-place team in Western Canada: Calgary Stampeders.

Unsung star of the year: The little dog that invariably gets into the field in the heat of the crucial game of the year, the last, really color-blind, even if it makes the referee's uniform for a barber-pole. He's just a critic.

Protagonist of the year: Your correspondent, who, one month ago, predicted fearfully that the Winnipeg Blue Bombers would win the Grey Cup.

Bears Down Huskies 80-50 As Cage Series Underway

Alberta Golden Bears clawed Saskatchewan Huskies 80-50 in a cage series last night. The variety gym last night to take a one-game lead in the annual intercollegiate basketball series.

Second contest in the four-game series will be played in Saskatoon this evening, commencing at 8:30.

In a second tilt last night, Walter Glynis led the Bears, while the Huskies were led by Larry Zeidel.

With Larry Zeidel off for tripping, making Quakers two men short, Pringle scored the winner on passes from Colville and Allen.

Edmonton's defense was too much for the Bears, who were outplayed in the second half.

Flyers Close Fast, Thump Quakers 5-2

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Saturday, Nov. 25, 1950

FLYERS PLAY QUAKERS AT GARDENS TONIGHT

The runaway Flyers tackle Saskatoon Quakers at the Gardens again tonight, it being the third meeting this week between WCHL pace-setters and the runners-up.

Flyers came out strong in the third period at Saskatoon last night, counting four goals to win 5-2.

Earlier in the week, as they opened up a three game trip into Saskatchewan, Flyers walloped Regis Mullen's crew 7-2.

A 2-0 Wednesday triumph over Regina Caps completed a grand-stand for Flyers on their jaunt into Saskatchewan.

Campbell Disallows New York Protest

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—(CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey league announced yesterday that the protest of New York Rangers over the tying goal scored by Montreal Canadiens Oct. 29 has been disallowed.

The game, a New York, ended in a 2-2 tie.

The Rangers protest was on the grounds that the goal was scored in the crease when the goal was closed.

A referee, George Gavel, failed to stop play when Rangers' goalie Chuck Rayner was injured on the play.

The decision said play stoppage for injury is a matter of discretion and judgment of the referee and cannot be grounds of protest at any time.

It also said official reports showed the Canadian player was partly in the crease as the result of colliding with Rayner, who was well outside the crease area, so no foul was committed by either side.

To Sweep Or Not to Sweep

(This is the 14th in a series of articles on curling, written especially for the Bulletin by Billy Rose, former Canadian champion from Stouffville.)

Men of science openly scoff at it. The average housewife looks upon it as an infringement of copyright. But Mr. Currier swears by sweeping as a very vital part of the game.

In fact if you want to start an argument among curlers anywhere, just mention that you think sweeping is a waste of time and money.

I must admit I'm not sure myself if sweeping does us any harm or if it is a waste of time and money.

Canadian Affairs Aired at Westlock

Library Hears Dr. W. Johns At Annual Business Meet

WESTLOCK, Nov. 25.—Canada's position in world affairs was outlined to members of Westlock community library association by Dr. Walter Johns, assistant president of the University of Alberta, at their recent annual meeting.

By means of a globe illustration, Dr. Johns stated the geographical position of Canada was of supreme importance to the people of Canada as it was sandwiched between the two chief ideologies of private enterprise in the USA and government control in Soviet Russia.

He stated it was not generally known among Canadians that Canada now occupies a place of importance in the United Nations and is the third greatest trading nation in the world.

BIG GAME SAID SCARCE

INNISFAIL, Nov. 25.—Local hunters returning from the Clearwater district report that big game is scarce in that area.

They report wolves are plentiful and believe this has caused the shortage of other game. Hunters were Russell and Ken Berscht, William Peters and Jack Browning.

BUSINESS MEETING

In the business portion of the meeting, the financial statement presented by Mrs. H. Hilde showed receipts for the year of $477.28 and expenditures of $499.80. A reserve of $302.44 is reported available to furnish permanent quarters.

Report of the librarian, Mrs. W. Bonnyville, Nov. 25.—Reception of Bonnyville's telephone system started this week in a joint construction program by Alberta Government Telephones and Canadian Utilities.

Phone System Is Installed

BONNYVILLE, Nov. 25.—Reception of Bonnyville's telephone system started this week in a joint construction program by Alberta Government Telephones and Canadian Utilities.

Two 100-pair cables will be fed into the two rear rooms of the school building, north of Main Street, which will serve as the main telephone office. The cables will hang on the Canadian Utilities pole and run in the two lanes north of Main Street.

A new switchboard is being installed by W. W. McNally and L. A. Abbott and provision is made for the installation of a second switchboard if it is found necessary.

Change over should be completed Dec. 15, weather permitting.

Aid in Road Upkeep Studied at Innisfail

INNISFAIL, Nov. 24.—Upkeep of the road west from Innisfail and possible government assistance were discussed by Innisfail board of trade at their monthly meeting here Tuesday.

Possibility of the project being adopted by the public works department of the provincial government was taken into consideration and tentative plans were made to push the move.

Preliminary arrangements were also made for a dinner in honor of the world's rye champion, Chris March of Jackson, and Tom Dickson, who was awarded first prize in the Shortland division at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair. He won with his Junior yearling bull entry.

Plans for the annual town Christmas tree, which will be held Dec. 22 Committee consisting of William Gorman, Oscar Lundgren and Fred Hilde were appointed to make arrangements.

Surprise Party Honors Couple

TOFFIELD, Nov. 25.—Surprise party was held recently in the Kingman hall for Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sutton on their 25th wedding anniversary.

They received a chest of silver from relatives and a purse of money from friends and neighbors. Their children were all present at the celebration.

VERY RARE

Pouce Coupe Girl Victim Of Disease

POUCE COUPE, B.C., Nov. 25.—Dickie Campbell, 19-year-old Pouce Coupe girl, died at home Monday of the rare disease, muscular dystrophy.

Only daughter of the late Dr. C. F. Campbell and Mrs. T. H. Campbell, Dickie contracted the disease at the age of four and was unable to walk since she was 12. There are only 12 such cases in Canada and no known cure.

Surviving are her mother and a stepfather, one brother, Ian at Sauli St. Marie, Ont., and two step sisters, Victoria and Josephine at home.

Services will be held today in the United Church at 2 p.m. with Rev. Miller of Hylle officiating.

Don't Bank on This

Just learned from an annual bank statement that things were never better.

The big bugs who run the bank say that assets and deposits are highest in bank's history.

If you're worrying about next month's rent, forget it, because "The double liability of bank shareholders has been finally extinguished."

If that telephone bill is bothering you just laugh it off, because "Our portfolio of readily marketable securities is ample for all needs."

Having a spot of trouble meeting those payments on the family charter? Tuti tut! The bankers say: "The balance of profit and loss account is $1,969,000 and we trust you will find this showing satisfactory." (Would we ever.)

Do you need a few bucks to tide you over the Christmas shopping season. You're sitting pretty, because bank loans amount to more than $205,000,000 and "We especially welcome the large number of small customers and consider their business very important." (That's just gotta mean me.)

Have'n't had a letter from Pat Ashby for more than a week. There's sure to be one in Monday's mail.

Death of Louis Rimstad of the athletic Rimstads will sadden many Edmonton hockey enthusiasts.

It only seems yesterday that we were all cheering for the Rimstads: Louis, Fats, and Morey.

Edmonton's lost a good guy and a good sport.

Remember that little piece I ran Monday about what veteran pensioners who need warm winter clothing?

Well, Bill Williams at Montgomery Legion branch informs me that in spite of response to the appeal there are still not nearly enough coats to go around.

He writes: "In fact, in the past two minutes, I've given away three coats."

Take a look around in those clothes closets folks. I'll bet there are overcoats there that you've forgotten all about.

And I still think it is a shame that the Legion has to make this kind of appeal in Edmonton district where rich oil quarters sell for half a million dollars.

A man just made the post office clock is giving up with a different kind of time than the other clocks around the corner of our town.

He also wants to know how is a person supposed to get through that human mass at low level bus stop on 100 street south of Jasper during rush hours.

A prosperous goodnight to all and especially to bank shareholders who have had their double liability finally extinguished.

Civil Defence Progress In Atla. To Be Studied

Progress in setting up a civilian defence organization for Alberta will be reported to Major General F. F. Worthington, co-ordinator of civil defence for Canada, when he visits Edmonton next month.

General Worthington is expected to arrive in Edmonton Dec. 4 after conferring with civil officials in Calgary, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge.

MEETINGS PLANNED
In Edmonton he will meet provincial co-ordinator of civil defence, Air Vice Marshal George R. Howman, deputy provincial co-ordinator, Col. E. (Ted) Brown, and Hon. C. E. Gerhart, head of the cabinet committee on civil defence.

At an organization meeting early this month, a provincial advisory committee headed by Howman was established.

Included in the committee's plans are decentralization of industries in major cities, and survey of population. Inventories of civilian resources, including drug supplies, will also be taken.

Attends Meet
Director of forestry for Alberta, E. S. Huesli, is attending a meeting of the Rocky Mountain section of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers in Calgary.

RAOB Meeting
The J. H. Richardson Lodge No. 2, RAOB, will hold its regular meeting on Monday at 8 p.m. in the RAOB hall, 805 - 118 avenue. There will be a degree ceremony.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 25.—(Reuters)—Six Malay police were killed in two attacks Thursday on trucks carrying recruits for the Malaya, it was disclosed yesterday.

PROCLAMATION
PEDESTRIAN PROTECTION WEEK
November 26th to
December 2nd, 1960

As Mayor of the City of Edmonton, I, Sidney Parsons, hereby proclaim the week beginning November 26th and ending December 2nd, 1960, as PEDESTRIAN PROTECTION WEEK.

During the week The Edmonton Safety Council, sponsor of the PEDESTRIAN PROTECTION WEEK, will publish in the local newspapers, broadcast on the radio and present to you by other means, valuable advice and information concerning SAFETY PRECAUTIONS ON THE HIGHWAY, and The City will publish in the local newspapers certain fundamental rules based upon the TRAFFIC LAWS.

This publicity is undertaken for the benefit and protection of roads of us and I therefore urge everyone to READ these publications, LISTEN to the TRAFFIC broadcasts, and other means of publicity and to remember and observe the advice, information and Traffic Laws thus brought to your attention, and urge everyone to make a special effort so as to ensure that no pedestrian will suffer any injury on the highways of our City.

Make your motto "CARE AND CO-OPERATION, COURTESY AND COMMON SENSE" observe this motto, obey the traffic rules and safety precautions and accidents will not happen.

DATED at Edmonton, Alberta,
this 25th day of November, 1960.
SIDNEY PARSONS,
Mayor.

BAKERY TRIAL IS POSTPONED
Six western bakers, charged with conspiracy under the Combines Act, will not go on trial in Calgary Monday as scheduled.

Hearing of an application for further particulars was adjourned yesterday by Mr. Justice Hoyt, until Monday.

There will be a long adjournment if the motion for further particulars is approved by the trial judge. If the motion fails to secure approval the case probably will come to trial some day next week, court officials said.

Pedestrian Safety Week Proclaimed
The forgotten man of machine, the pedestrian, will come into his own next week in Edmonton. The occasion is "Pedestrian Protection Week," proclaimed by the City in the press today. If the motion fails to secure approval the case probably will come to trial some day next week, court officials said.

REWARD
It's also worth five dollars to each pedestrian to catch the "jaybird" in the day in the act of jaywalking. If the capture is made during the 4:30 to 6:30 rush hour, the caper gets $10 from the City Council.

$9 Million Building Project Is Planned

Money to Finance Big Office Buildings

By Art Fitter

Members of First Baptist Church last night unanimously accepted a four-month option for sale of their 102 avenue-102 street property at $250,000.

The $1,000 option was the way for sale of the church's site opposite site Eaton's to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The insurance firm was reported willing to build a six-story structure for an unspecified "Canadian mercantile corporation."

BIG INVESTMENT
Metropolitan's plans call for investment in Edmonton of $9,000,000. The meeting was held. Part of it, would go into financing the project. The project is located on the north side of Jasper, between 108 and 109 streets, which D. B. Lander said several weeks ago would soon be financed.

First Baptist congregation several years ago turned down a $20,000 offer for their property.

For several years city officials have been anxious to see the church move to some other less central site, and accordingly gave it an option on two lots on the east side of 109 street between 100 and 101 streets.

A special meeting of city council Tuesday night renewed the option for purchase at $8,000. Although there are other standing offers for the two lots, it is not likely to be substituted.

Church members last night set a master planning, finance and building committee to explore details of a new church and site.

Under terms of the option, the church agrees to demolish the present church and give possession within one year of sale.

It would be possible to build a new structure adequate to the church's needs within eight months of completing plans, and at a cost not substantially more than $200,000.

Dr. J. H. Bailey said a contract had been made.

Rehearsals Start On Youth Musical

General Invitation Issued To Interested Young People

"Varieties of '51," an all-young musical, opens rehearsal this Sunday in the Recreation Building, 10280-100 street.

It will again be under the direction of Brian Wiles, who has directed the Varieties for the past three years.

This year Miss Wiles is presenting the show in three acts, each depicting a certain setting of life in the world of music and dance. The first act, "Varieties of '51," is a musical comedy in which young people interested in music and dance will have ample chance to perform.

A stage manager, costume designer and wardrobe mistress are also needed to handle the production and direct the cast of 50.

"Cast members need not be great actors and Miss Wiles, 'The only real requirement needed is a genuine love for music and dance. Besides, I urge all young people between 20 and 24 to turn out for rehearsal."

Sponsor of this year's show will be the Edmonton Recreation Commission. Assisting Miss Wiles in the directing the production will be Evelyn Hickey, and George Beasley will be pianist.

Record-Making Shows There's War In Korea

The Korean war is finally beginning to be felt in the record industry.

REA Victor has withdrawn its disc of "Old Man Atom," released in the U.S. but not in Canada, as too similar to the Communist propaganda campaign for outwitting of the atomic bomb.

But since then, a couple of variations have hit the market. One is "The Red We Want to Live," by the George M. Cohan style, brimming with patriotism. The best recordings of the song so far are those of (Peggy) Carr for Capitol and by Slim Wilson for Decca.

In another war tune, Arista (Guitar Boogie) Smith gives Russia a bumper recording in "Mr. Stalin You Taint Too Hot for Me." The record companies, scrambling for the big Christmas trade, are sending some top-notch discs to the market.

Capitol's star, Kay Starr, has a red-hot tune in "Mama, Where's Papa Gone," with a romantic plea, "Please Love Me" on the other side. She's also got a disc in the air in "Honeycomb" and "Nobody's Sweetheart."

"HONEY COMB" RCA Victor's Ziggy Talent has a corny sequel to "Good Nightingale" in "Please Say Goodnight To The City, Town or Village or Solovity, Lena, The Queen At The Palace."

Native Radio Big Problem In S. Africa

CAPETOWN — (CP) — South Africa is battling a radio problem that is a lot different from the television puzzle and the old arguments between private-owned and national radio in Canada.

It's the problem of reaching thousands of new, untapped white dwellers in the South African cities and towns.

The trouble is that the great mass of African natives do not own radio sets. Even the handful who can afford them are quite shy because they live in new townships which are not yet supplied with electricity.

British immigrants were first to see the possibilities, and they pioneered a new cheap, battery-operated set which is selling like hotcakes to the natives, because of its shape is called the "african set."

Another idea is the plan of a British firm's subsidiary to take radio by wire to African homes. Under this scheme all the native's home would need is a loudspeaker. Substations erected in the various townships would take the programs into homes lit by kerosene and candles.

Famed Indian Dancers Billed In City Tuesday

One of the world's most famous Indian dancing troupes, Sujata and Asoka, will make their first Edmonton appearance at the Trocadero Tuesday and Wednesday.

The troupe will appear under the sponsorship of the Edmonton Lion's Club.

In their dances of India and Tibet, the famed dancing pair, Sujata and Asoka, will perform in rich fabrics, bejeweled anklets, bangles and head-dresses, and will present a series of dances, varying in different types of dances, varying in the preservation of the dance art of India and Tibet throughout the world.

The program here will consist of ten different types of dances, varying in the preservation of the dance art of India and Tibet throughout the world. Tickets for the Edmonton dance are now on sale at Heintzman.

Big Sports Events Top Radio Listener Interest

By Maury Soward

Radio "specials" in music, drama and sport lie ahead for listeners this week.

First in time and importance is the Grey Cup game from Toronto, CFRN carried it this morning, preceded by a half-hour history of the Grey Cup clashes.

The week's other big sports event is the story of Joe Louis making his second attempt to smash the comeback leader, Wednesday, he takes on Oscar Brown, sensational young pugilist, who in Chicago Stadium, Russ Hodges does the blow-by-blow account over CBS at 8 p.m.

Nothing particularly extraordinary is scheduled in the field of popular music, but old-time fans come in for a brief revival of Blue Crosby's Wednesday program over CBS, 7:30 p.m.

The greater plays host to Ella Fitzgerald, still among the best of the blues singers, and a solid little Los Angeles combo who call themselves "Firehouse Five-plus."

DIXIELAND AGAIN An appetizing little CBC program also has some good dishing. On Mondays at 6:30 p.m., it's the "Dixieland" program, presented by a series of professional bands.

And the off the beaten path classical music is on practically every day this week. This morning, the "Symphonies" concert, with Eleanor Steber as Pamina, Opera production of Magic Flute, Richard Tucker, Tamino, and Erna Berger as Queen of the Night, on CBC at 12 noon.

The New York Philharmonic is devoting its whole program to a one-act comic opera, "The Merry Widow." This opera revolves around the spy adventures of Conception, young wife of an elderly composer, in 19th century Toledo. The role will be sung by Metropolitan Opera soprano Frances Bruni.

Wednesday's musical feature is a concert by the Majors Choir, consisting of the vocalists of the Spanish Mediterranean island. Their program includes early Spanish folk songs, pre-classical composers and chorals works by such masters as Bach and Mozart. On CBC, 7:30 p.m.

On Friday, Regional Folk, probably the most distinguished classical player in the world, will lead a trio of Giorgio Giampà, Violin, and Eric Hov, piano, in Brahms Trio in A Major.

DRAMA SPOTS In the field of drama, here are the highlights: Sunday Stage 12-The Master of Ballantrae, by Robert Louis Stevenson, concerning the Scotland of the 18th century. Prince Charlie, CBC at 9 p.m.

Monday-Radio Theatre-Delany and the Barker-Karpis gang, their original screen roles in "You're My Everything," CBC at 7 p.m.

EDMONTONIAN WRITES BOOK

Dr. Donald Dickie, eminent Edmonton teacher who wrote Canadian history and geography readers for junior school classes, has produced in "The Great Adventure" (Dent) his most ambitious volume. It is a presentation of Canadian history especially designed for use in Junior high schools.

Miss Dickie, a native of Hopedale, Ont., went to Alberta after gaining a Ph.D. degree in history for which she studied at Oxford. Alone by the research which previously went into her textbooks she has written a vigorous and continuous study of Canadian history.

About one third of the work is devoted to the French regime and the remainder to the British period. The series had been submitted to her pupils, many of whose suggestions were adopted.

Meanwhile, officials of the Philharmonic Executive headed by president Harold Sagar are laying plans for a series of symphonic concerts in the New Year.

"We felt there were too many other events to compete with before then," said Mr. Sagar, "but the Philharmonic will be back after December with a full repertoire and organized on a more professional basis."

SPONSORED SERIES To add the executive is trying to arrange "Symphonies" concert series. Until the first concert, the rehearsals will continue under conductor Edgar Williams, with a steady average of 50 per cent or more of the total orchestra of 60 turning out each week.

Prize Offered For Composition By ABC Quartet

TORONTO—In an effort to create new music for string quartet, the American Broadcasting Company's "ABC Quartet" is offering a prize of $400 for the best manuscript submitted to them.

The competition is open to residents of the United States and Canada. Final date for submission of manuscripts is March 31, 1951.

Further particulars may be obtained from Rex Maupia, music director, American Broadcasting Company, 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 6.

32-Year-Old Singer Goes Hit Parade

TORONTO—(CP)—An old song written by Bob Wilson, Toronto veteran of vaudeville, promises to climb high on the current hit parade. Wilson, now 32, carried the song in his pocket for 22 years before recording companies began racing to get it on wax.

Wilson says he got the idea for the song "Smile, Smile, Smile" while playing in a small Saskatchewan town in 1929. He was then a Canadian show business for more than half a century. He was born at Somerville, a village in Ontario's Keweenaw, the Lakes district, and came to Toronto as a small boy. He started as a youngster in amateur companies and turned professional with Jimmy Fox, show veterans who died five years ago.

His own company toured Ontario, Western Canada and the United States for many years, during which he composed a number of songs. It wasn't until less than a year ago that he thought of trying to get any published.

He is assisted by the talents of the old Canadian Chausson group. "There were a lot of good songs left, justly called 'old-timers' went," he said.

Selections under consideration for CBS' "The Chordless" are submitted to a jury of four. It is one of the four know the tune, it's out.

Top British Play Comes To Broadway

NEW YORK—(UP)—The first major work of British current No. 1 playwright, Christopher Fry, is a presentation of "The Great Adventure" after a sensational London run.

It dispels some of the local doubts about the playwright that followed presentation of a one-act play of his here last spring.

The new arrival is "The Lady's Not for Burning," Fry's first introduction to Broadway, one with "Phoenix Two Frequent," which was badly cast, acted and directed.

The new play is a full-length affair and it comes complete with expert British cast. This is practically the same company that played it in London, with John Gielgud and the extraordinary Pamela Brown leading the cast.

Fry writes in blank verse.

Kehaya Sings Here Sunday

The young Greek lyric soprano, Diana Kehaya, will be vocal soloist in 1949 after concert training in Greece and Italy. Among her accomplishments is the ability to sing seven languages.

Accompanied by Jack Dowling, she will be heard in "Hellas" from Carmen, "Why Do I Love You?" by Jerome Kern, "Spatia" by Tchaikovsky, and "Furioso" by Verdi.

VIOLINIST, TOO

Sharing the program, David Kachuk, violin, will play Slavonic Dance No. 2 by Dvorak, Tchaikovsky's "The Swan," and the Sarabande from Bach's Partita No. 2 for unaccompanied violin.

Tea will be served following the program by business Mrs. D. Radford and Mrs. D. Ramsey. The price is invited.

EVERY CHILD PEDESTRIAN IS A HUMAN CAUTION SIGN

CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN . . . and not hurt is a twist of the old adage which tells a story of safety for young and old. With "Pedestrian Protection Week" opening tomorrow, young'uns like Jimmy Nichols, left, and his brother Bobby should learn that playing on the street is courting disaster. Each year hundreds of children are killed in traffic accidents . . . because their parents have neglected to teach them basic safety rules.

SLIPPERY ROADS...SPEEDY DRIVER...NO SURVIVOR

DON'T BE IN SUCH A HURRY . . . to walk your last step! This pre-holiday season of hectic shopping each year takes a high toll of lives by traffic accidents. A half-minute saved by jay-walking may cut a life-time in half but busy homemakers like Mrs. C. A. Rogers flit with fate when they take short-cuts through busy intersections. Bulky parcels and slippery streets are danger demons too.

WINTER IS HERE...AVOID THAT RUN DOWN FEELING

JEEPERS CREEPERS . . . Use Your Peepers is a teen-ager slogan for safety that's emphasized by Edmonton Safety Council in its forthcoming campaign for pedestrian protection. Carol Ann Rogers takes advantage of a car fender to adjust her skates . . . never thinking fate may take advantage of her lack of safety precaution. Motorists being what they are, 'tis best to remember that it's but a step from here to the hereafter.

Women of Today

"Pedestrian Protection Week" starts tomorrow.

Sponsored by Edmonton Safety Council, an intensified drive for greater traffic courtesy, efficiency is planned to further pedestrian protection.

Brigadier J. C. Jefferson, president of the council; J. L. DeVoin, traffic committee chairman; Howard Stutchbury, executive secretary; Paul Lawrence, safety director, are instrumental in the campaign work.

Alberta's traffic toll of 1949 numbered 7,650 accidents.

DON'T SPEND A LIFETIME IN CROSSING THE STREET

IT PAYS TO LOOK YOUR BEST . . . especially when crossing a street because eternal vigilance is the price of safety. Caution by words "Stop-Look-Listen" are three little words to remember for pedestrian protection. Mrs. James Nichols fails to think of the danger she's inviting for herself and her young son Bruce when her attention wanders from her path of progress.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Strapless Blouses Strike for Attention

By BEA THRIFTY

Ochre-ochre strapless blouses have registered high approval with the sophisticated set, and I say sophisticated for want of a better word . . . and a better word.

Strapless theme for feminine glamour is enriched with new evening blouses of black velvet . . . black or white lace . . . multi-hued metallics.

These are styled with a bodice cuff, snug-fit and "low-lying" look.

For them as doesn't worry about sneezing 'n such the elegant wisps of something sell at prices marching up the scale from $4.95 for a certain lace effort.

In more demure manner, long-sleeved lace blouses are Peter-Pan collar for a $6.95 price listing.

Velvet and satin evening blouses are brief sleeved, but collared at $7.95 and up.

Victory of velvet in the battle of fashion shown once more in the parade of long-sleeved evening blouses.

Long-handled for over-arm draped, little rounded backs of midnight blue, inky black, carol red or emerald green are velvet luxuries for evening wear.

If you're so inclined buy one for $5.98.

Metallic material in silver or gold glaze has been borrowed from another end to the head-bugging evening blouses for many costumes and occasions.

One sky-blue metallic bag selling for $9.95 stole my heart away with its silvery sheen.

Cocktail hour bags, still tiny . . . but more subdued in fashion and material, are satin, cord, velvet, hand-dandies for $1.98 and upward.

A pretty $3.98 affair is fur brown staid with a tiny gold-laced clasp.

"Little hats" are as important as "little bags" this merry social season.

Lush velvet toppers of green, bronze, tangerine are tiny-brimmed, peaked or in winged versions at $3.25 and $3.95.

For casual toggery, plaid-proud designers have presented famous tartan cloches, Eton-style beanie hats and helmet-style beanie hats.

These too sell at $3.25 and $3.95 each. An occasional model will appear for a lucky shopper at a $2.25 and $2.95 price.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Harassed Girl Advised To Cut Apron Strings

DEAR MISS DIX: My trouble is a too dotting mother. I am 21 years old, yet she holds me by the hand as if I were a child of three.

Never lets me out of her sight if she can help it. If I suggest going any place, she says: "Wait, I'll go too." If I have a date, which I seldom on account of her, I either have to sit at home, or tell her every word that is said. My girl friends have dropped out because mother has to go everywhere we go. Can you think of any remedy for this possessive mother love? I can't stand much more of it.

A FRUSTRATED GIRL.

ANSWER: The real remedy for your situation, I leave home. That is the only way by which you can keep your mother from running your life, because if you stay with her she will alienate you from your friends, drive all men away from you and you will end up by becoming one of those dedicated, colorless old maids who have no personality or existence of their own.

They are just mother's shadow.

WHY GROW OLD

Names Are Important Try to Remember Them

By Josephine Lowman

In order to be popular or truly charming you must have a real interest in other people. Some persons are born with this feeling for others. Many must develop it.

I often suggested that the habit of observing others and trying to find out as much about them as you meet as possible, of turning thoughts out rather than in, may seem ludicrous at first, but if you practice this soon you will find that you actually are more interested in others than you once were.

One of the best ways of letting a person know your real interest in him is to remember his name. Most people who like people do not fail to do this. Sometimes it is very fact that they are not interested with the person they meet makes them more careless about getting the name fixed in their mind.

If you are handicapped by self-consciousness you may want my booklet "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self-Consciousness." If so send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 59 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

WI IN NORTHERN ALBERTA

WI Follows Through to Help 'Diaper Parade' for Europe

District WI announces a new branch at Mallalag organized by Mrs. H. Leach of Glendon, constituency convener, President is Mrs. C. Gunnip and secretary Mrs. H. Sykes.

Mrs. A. B. McGorman, has been in contact with Dr. Lotia Hieken, Executive Director of the United Nations in Canada, who spent part of last summer in Greece, where she found the need of clothing deplorable, particularly for babies.

Dr. Hieken has launched a "March of Diapers" and is asking every woman in Canada to send one diaper and if possible one dollar which will buy fifteen bars of soap. It is suggested the diapers be of a dark flannellette owing to scarcity of soap.

Diapers as well as the dollars should be sent to: United Nations, 48 Sparks St., Ottawa, Canada.

Used clothing may again be sent to Mrs. McGorman, and it will be forwarded to United Nations at Winnipeg for overseas shipment. (Invaluable) constituency held a party in Legion Hall at Inuviala when more than twenty-five women gathered to become better acquainted.

Wang branch plans for Constituency Meeting to be held at the Wang Hall. Ten dollars was raised for the CNIB. Kinuso branch for the CNIB resulted in $54 being sent to headquarters. This branch will continue to maintain Xmas Home.

Quinta branch are asking for assistance from the DHE for patients, etc. for bazaar articles. Library books will be obtained for winter reading from the Extension Dept.

Lynburn branch heard paper on Social Services prepared by Mrs. J. P. Gerlinger.

Grand Prairie branch talk on United Nations was given by Miss G. Bishop. This branch sponsors an annual, Michele, in Severs, France. A parcel will be sent to him for Christmas.

Rose Valley branch. This was the first meeting since August—plans were made for a quilting bee at the home of Mrs. V. Amson.

Alida branch. Plans were made to attend meeting in Vegreville when Dr. Lotia Hieken was to speak at the Legion Hall.

Beauty Prairie branch members brought articles for a white elephant sale at the bazaar.

Millie branch had members of the Wang, Lady Tweedsmuir and Golden Globe branches as guests at the home of Mrs. T. H. Hovet when Mrs. A. B. McGorman held of the work of the ACWW conference at Copenhagen. More than 40 women attended the meeting.

Waxman branch. Mrs. T. Ward reported the Story Panel Conference. Mrs. E. J. Woodard Sr. will be the Home and Country secretary for her branch.

Fastest branch made plans for the annual supper, tea and sale. Quilts were given out to be applied.

North Red Deer branch appointed convener for the tea and bazaar. Mrs. A. Pearce read article on "Indian and their Old-fashioned Ideas."

Angus Ridge branch will remember the children at the Bethany Home in Westcliffe at Christmas with gifts from individual members.

Miss Agnes Bailey and Mrs. B. Zorch will attend the Constituency Meeting at Wang Hall.

Falun branch. Plans were made for the Constituency meeting. Sick members were remembered with fruit.

Milledam Valley branch will have a program and bazaar Dec. 1. Mrs. C. Boite volunteered to look after "Indian and their Old-fashioned Ideas" for the school children.

Rio Grande branch. Thirty pounds of good candy is being sent to the Link Letter WI in England. All efforts are being set toward the building of a kitchen at the hall.

Glendon branch WI will sponsor the serving of lunch during the carnival in aid of the skating rink. Members are sewing for the hospital.

Ma-meo constituency held a conference was reported by Mrs. Frances Potluk. Doreen Clarke gave a talk on the care of the hair.

Chaton July Juniors. Talk on project books was given by Miss Yvonne Peterson. Joan Battell is new president, secretary — Mary Nelson.

Mannville branch girls' club made plans for Amateur Golf and dance — Dec. 1. Jean Fisher and Joyce Brownworth gave a demonstration hair styling and a food discussion followed.

Round Hill branch had a talk on Social Services by Mrs. A. La Belle.

There will be a Christmas party, each member responsible for one item of entertainment.

Tennis Club To Award Trophies

Trophies will be presented to 1950 tournament winners at the Highlands Tennis club at their banquet Saturday evening.

Annual banquet and dance will be held at Mandarin Gardens beginning at 7 p.m.

Arnold Muir, president, will preside at the short meeting following the banquet.

Mrs. Mair, Mrs. Helen Parker, Mrs. Hugh Rae, Mrs. Amy Brooks, Mrs. Marion Edgar, Mrs. Rose Alexander, Mrs. Edna Ward, Joyce Roseborough and Mrs. A. W. Roseborough are planning details for the banquet and dance.

Tobe on Fashion —

Make It A Fashion Christmas With A Lucious Color Fleeces Coat

We know of course that it's pretty hard to buy clothes for another person, unless you're new to the game and don't know a check like a like a minute compromise.

So I suggest that you make a little paper doll by cutting a photograph or sketch of some very smart suit or coat or dress out of a fashion magazine or advertisement, mounting it on card board with a little prop to enable it to stand up and attaching yellow, very pale beige and the off-whites; all perfect for midwinter, all prophetic for spring.

Topes on our list of suggestions is one of the wonderful new fleeces coats.

The colors are simply luxurious—pink, periwinkle blue, a peachy-cream, lime green yellow, very pale beige and the off-whites; all perfect for midwinter, all prophetic for spring.

Some Men Older Than They Feel

Men who are over 40 often think it necessary to show to other fellows that a man can be as young as he feels, so he overdoes his capacity for lifting weights, running or taking part in sports that are too strenuous for him.

It is a good idea to do just a little bit more than the other men at the hunting camp. An unexpected heavy condition could be made much easier by lifting weights, running or taking part in sports that are too strenuous for him.

Government Now Ottawa Top Landlord

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent, who will pay $5,000 a year to live in the new prime minister's residence at 24 Sussex street in Ottawa, is the government's No. 1 landlord.

And the federal government, especially in the last few years, has become the capital's biggest landlord. Scores of government officials and others outside the public service live in homes owned by the Crown.

Among such homes are a number of Ottawa's best residential grounds, and while many are old-fashioned in design and equipment, their location and grounds are usually unequalled.

At one time, a free government house went along with certain jobs as a condition of employment. But, like time, this practice has passed.

MODERATE RENTS
Today the official who lives in a Crown-owned house pays rent for it and the rent is considered a fair level by the departments concerned, but is strictly moderate in relation to rentals paid for comparable accommodation to private landlords.

Reason for this is that there is no absolute security of tenure. An official and his family occupy a government house only as long as he holds his position. The lease automatically lapses with a transfer, retirement or death.

Many of these government-owned homes are located on the grounds of the experimental farms, the national research council laboratories and close to the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont.

Departments in general feel that having senior officials at close as possible to their work contributes to general efficiency, especially in those divisions of the public service where activity is continuous and not confined to civil service working hours.

Skill Unnecessary To Cut Heat Loss

Several Methods Suggested To Keep Winter Cold Out

Windows and doors are the major heat wasters in the home. But you don't have to be a skilled craftsman to cut heat loss to nothing.

First, check to see whether there are air leaks around those panes of glass in windows and door frames. When a house is first built, the frames may fit tightly. But after the house settles, cracks often appear which allow important heat losses around their edges. This is especially serious if they are set in masonry construction.

To stop air infiltration around the glass panes, simply reglaze them tightly in place.

AROUND WINDOW
To stop air leaks around window and door frames, treat them periodically with caulking compound, which is available in paint and hardware stores, either in dispensing tubes or in packages. Caulking guns can be purchased at reasonable prices and may sometimes be rented.

The caulking compound, a putty-like plastic mass, is forced into the cracks under pressure so that it enters deeply and fills the crack completely.

For a good caulking job, pack large cracks with oakum, jute or similar material. Then cover this with caulking compound.

The next step of heatproofing is to weatherstrip loose-fitting windows and doors. Suitable weatherstrips are made of metal, rubber, felt and plastic. Metal weatherstripping is permanent and most efficient, but it takes special tools to apply it. Get a skilled workman to install striping of this type.

STRIP TYPES
And other strip types, however, are easily applied. To start, close the window and cut the weatherstripping to length. Then place it against the window frame so that the rubber or felt edge touches the sash tightly along its entire length.

Then tack it in place with small, rust-resistant nails at top of the upper sash and the bottom of the lower. The strip is tacked to the sash and not to the frame.

To weatherstrip a door, apply the strip all around the door frame when the door is slightly closed. At the bottom, lay a piece of the strip on the doornail on the outside and lay another piece along the bottom of the door on the inside, so that it also touches the sill when the door is closed.

Weatherstrips for metal-frame casement windows are made to fit snugly into the frame.

Burning Headache
LEDSO, Eng. — (CP) — "Mrs. Gladys Jeff, 31, had a 'burning' headache. She had applied mercury-laden ointment to her aching forehead and on lighting a match it burst into flames. Mrs. Jeff was treated for burns at a local clinic.

Many of these government-owned homes are located on the grounds of the experimental farms, the national research council laboratories and close to the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont.

If You Live In A Glass House . . .

By OSWALD JACOBY

"You recently discussed a hand, in which both defendants made a mistake," a Pittsburgh correspondent reminds me. "Here's another of the same kind. The question is, which defender was more to blame for the bad result?"

"Everybody admits, of course, that South should have had his head examined when he bid four spades. But I think it is fair to say that North was equally at fault."

monde. West laid down the ace of spades; and then shifted to a club. East took the ace of clubs and returned the three of spades for West to ruff.

"West looked very carefully at the three spades, the lowest card of the suit that East could possibly have led back. According to the convention, East would lead back a low spade to call for a continuation of clubs; but East would lead back a high spade to call for a shift to hearts. After ruffing the spade, therefore, West led the king of clubs."

"This was all South needed. He ruffed the club, drew trumps, discarded his losing heart on the queen of clubs, and took one more spade finesse."

East and West had a lot to say to each other, but it all boiled down to this: West thought his partner had misread the situation by leading the three of spades when he could so easily have led the king of clubs, and took one more spade finesse."

Pill Boxes Not Used As Much For Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The concrete pill box is fast disappearing as post-war housing in war-torn Normandy, according to the Economic Cooperation Administration.

The French government has allocated more than $10,000,000 for the construction of a vast housing program of 200,000 units to relieve hundreds of thousands of homeless people. The plan is to build 100,000 units in the Allied invasion of 1944 and who have been living in the ruins of villages, cellars and barracks ever since.

Building

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Saturday, Nov. 25, 1950

PARTIALLY COMPLETED structure is future home of provincial government's land titles office. Building, under construction since May 18, is expected to be ready for occupancy in second week of February. Present premises now occupied by land titles in the court house are needed for court offices.

Opinion Divided On Ability Of Amateur House Builders

Can the average person build his own house? Authors of several new books think so. Experienced builders—and some amateurs—have tried—think not.

Thomas P. Cogan of Miami, Fla., president of the association, says he has received reports from builders in various sections of the country about disillusioned builders calling in professional builders to try to salvage homes they started from books.

In many instances his savings have been invested in lumber and other materials, stacked on the lot and allowed to become badly weathered before the hopeful amateurs have realized that the task was beyond them.

Cogan observes: "For 99 per cent of the people trying to build their own homes makes as much sense as trying to build their own automobiles."

On the other hand, there have been many instances where amateurs have succeeded. Usually they have hired carpenters and foundation men, and then with the aid of friends have gone ahead with the superstructure.

Cooperative groups of veterans, including ex-Seabees, or a few carpenters by trade, have built houses successfully. Farmers often are equal to the task.

JOKER IN THE DECK But for the average city man, of free worker or person lacking in mechanical knack, there are plenty of headaches in store. Home builder Cogan warns: "Unless a person is mechanically skilled in all the intricate phases of home construction, and such persons are rare outside the building field, an owner-built house will cost more, not less, than those erected by regular building firms."

Ships Included VANCOUVER.—(CP)—The week beginning Nov. 26 in "Anti-Smoke Week" here and city inspectors have asked co-operation from captains of vessels in port. The city bylaws do not cover visiting vessels.

Russia Planning Building Cost Cut

Building Design Simplification Helping to Achieve Order

By Tom Whitney

MOSCOW.—(AP)—A Soviet government decree this year declared that construction costs throughout the U.S.S.R. must be reduced by 25 per cent.

This is in fact—judging by extensive press reports on this subject and newspaper articles written by construction officials—actually being done.

As soon as the decree issued came out, various means were used to promulgate the various approaches to reduction of costs. One of the means suggested was by simplification of building design. It was pointed out in various articles that some Soviet architects persisted in using elaborate decorations and decorative schemes on the outside of buildings which did not add to the beauty of the structure, and did add immensely to the erection costs.

It was recommended that all building designs be reviewed, to see what could be eliminated from the architectural scheme without aesthetic or practical loss but with reduction of costs. Much was done in this direction.

GOVERNMENT AID The government itself gave the building industry substantial aid. It reduced wholesale prices of all building materials and other items used in building by a sharp margin and at the same time reduced freight rates on building materials.

THE government in reducing these costs told the building materials industry that it would have to produce more efficiently and secure a lower cost of production of building materials. This is also being carried out.

As another part of the drive, it was recommended that the mechanization of labor consuming processes could assist. It was said that many building organizations were not making efficient use of the machinery in their hands.

INCREASE DELIVERIES The government further decided to increase deliveries of building materials to building organizations.

OLD RELICS IN DEMAND

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE.—(CP)—The west must be getting old. There are indications of inter-provincial rivalry over the custody of its relics.

Ben Richardson, vice-chairman of the Portage La Prairie Museum, says Manitoba is losing many valuable pieces because of the Manitoba government's "wait and see" policy.

Richardson said an official of the Saskatchewan Museum recently carried off carloads of historic relics from Manitoba and added "it is apparent Saskatchewan is building up a well-stocked museum with articles from Manitoba."

Others, including excavators, cement mixers, trucks, cranes and dozens of other items.

One of the most important items in the lower cost drive of the building industry was the proposition of progressive methods of work. Laborers and others who secured good results were asked to explain to their fellow workers why they did this. They were in exceptional cases written up in the press.

The drive for lowered costs of building has been going on for months now, and it is expected that it will be waged relentlessly all to increase deliveries of building materials to building organizations.

Wine Grape Home Effort For Quebec

QUEBEC CITY.—(UP)—Quebec may have her own domestic wines within the next 10 years if a Laval University biologist gets his way.

Prof. Joseph D. Vandel is working on a new series of crosses to transform Quebec wild grape vines into a species producing wines comparable to the best of the Niagara peninsula or even to California's.

"I have four main problems to overcome," he said. "First, I must produce a variety that will survive our rugged climate. I must produce a vine that will produce a less acid grape. Then I must produce a bigger grape, and, finally, I must retain the quality of the rich European grapes."

Vandel has been working on his project since 1944. He uses the outdoor winter temperatures of at ordinary farms from the Quebec wild vine, which can survive at least 35 degrees below zero.

Pollination of the varieties is a tedious process accomplished by hand, and Vandel lost from 30 to 40 per cent of his seedlings during the first two winters.

THEORY MAY BE HARMFUL

CHILTERNHAM, Eng.—(CP)—J. F. Wolfenden, vice-chancellor of Reading University, says modern theories that children must be allowed complete liberty to "express" themselves do more harm than good.

Wolfenden told a conference: "A sound and steady appreciation of the difference between right and wrong, true and false, beautiful and ugly, will seem to me to be more important than information about the distance of the sun from the earth or about the names of the kings of Judah."

"The theory of self-development seems to depend on the fallacy that children are born perfect and need no more for their growth to perfection than to be left alone to unfold the riches of their angelic natures."

What Should Doctor Tell?

LONDON.—(CP)—The old question, how much should a doctor tell his patients, was discussed by Sir Cecil Wakerley, president of the Royal College of Surgeons. He said it's a delicate question and it's up to the surgeon himself to decide in each case.

"Too often, when the mystery has been told, the patient loses a great deal of his cooperative power and confidence in his full recovery."

"Some patients will benefit from a description of their operation but such knowledge will transform others into nervous wrecks."
